About Company / Product Groups and/or Services

AlbStone Group arose from a great love of nature and a passion for our culture. Family ties with the wonderful country of Albania and our technical expertise led us to the discovery of remarkable marble quarries in Macukull, located in the district of Diber. As inquisitive people, we are always interested in a unique story, and it is this inspiring story that we want to share with you.

Perroi i Shlliut, meaning "Saint Elijah's Creek," suggests a rich historical backdrop, potentially housing remnants of an ancient church. Professor Albert Riska confirms the area's archaeological significance. Our marble quarry holds ancient traces embedded in its layers, making our marble truly unique.

Walking along the road, we encountered breccia, a stone formed by geological processes, exhibiting remarkable patterns and colors. Through scientific study, we identified it as tectonic breccia, a material showcasing centuries of geological evolution. Some fragments date back over 130 million years, making each stone a journey through time. It was not easy to choose a name for a stone with so many facets. Ultimately we wanted to capture the rural atmosphere, the rugged landscape, and the dynamic nature of the stone. After extensive brainstorming, we decided that we should name the stone after the place where it is quarried: Deja. Deja stands for the mountain range, as well as the proud tradition of the village in the Mat district, testifying to millennia of nature and culture. And so Breccia Deja was born. The marble was quarried and processed in 2016 for the very first time.

Leonardo Marble: Pioneering Global Trends in Natural Stone for Over Three Decades

With an impressive lineage spanning 32 years, Leonardo Marble stands tall as a paramount trader and manufacturer of Turkish natural stone. Our journey began in 1992, marking our foray into the granite trading business, importing blocks from nations such as Ukraine, Russia, and Kazakhstan to diverse markets including Turkey, Italy, and the Far East. Responding to a surging demand, our pursuits expanded, exporting the splendors of Turkish marble, travertine, and limestone.

Our deep-rooted experience and insightful feedback propelled our focus towards Italy, an undeniable maven in stone-related architectural trends. This realization culminated in the birth of our first Italian partnered venture, A&G 23 S.R.L. in the historic city of Carrara in 2008. Since then, we have been at the epicenter of evolving global stone trends, offering the richness of both Turkish and Italian blocks and slabs to countries spanning the continents.

In addition to our trading endeavors, we pride ourselves on our direct involvement in the very essence of stone extraction. In 2012, we initiated quarry operations with the Moca Quarry, nestled in the Elazığ Province of Turkey. Here, we extract limestone in two mesmerizing shades: the world-renowned Gold Moca and Silver Moca.

Whether it's a trading partnership or a quest for the finest stone, Leonardo Marble promises excellence, heritage, and an undying commitment to the world of natural stones.
